Jackson Street Market Days is a festival that many shopping lovers are crazy about. It's an old fashioned open-air street fair where you can buy all types of antiques. I heard that many travelers go to this festival and enjoy it. Because there are many things to buy shoppers can have a lot of choices.

The annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is another fun thing to do in Texas. It's the world's largest stock show. Watching bull riding and calf roping are things that you should not miss. And if you are hungry, the barbecue cook-off is available at the festival.

The "Annual Dinosaurs Alive!" at the Heard Museum is a great place for dinosaur lovers. Now is your time to get excited about dinosaurs by coming to the museum. It is exciting but also has an educational function. Visiting the museum will give you a chance to experience dinosaurs. The dinosaur museum is not far from Rt.66, so it is easy to visit...a great idea for your vacation.
